Trump is coming to Wisconsin to sell a record of broken promises and sow division say Dems.

MADISON - President Donald J. Trump will hold a Make America Great Again rally in Green Bay, WI on Saturday, April 27. The rally will be held at the Resch Center, with doors opening at 4 p.m. for general admission.

Democratic Party of Wisconsin chair Martha Laning made the following is a statement on the news.

“If Trump is expecting to find a warm welcome in Wisconsin, he’s in for a rude surprise. We haven’t forgiven Trump’s repeated attempts to rip health care coverage from our families and neighbors, nor have we forgotten his massive tax giveaway to millionaires and billionaires that was brokered on the backs of hardworking Wisconsinites.

“Trump is coming to Wisconsin to sell a record of broken promises and sow division in our state, and frankly, we’ve had enough.”
