Trump accused of acting with Carlos de Oliveira, the property manager of the hotel, and Trump's other co-defendant Walt Nauta with trying to delete the footage.

WASHINGTON, DC - The Justice Department is accusing former President Trump of attempting to delete surveillance footage at his Mar-a-Lago property in a new superseding indictment filed in the classified records case on Thursday.

DOJ says Trump acted with a new co-conspirator to try to delete the footage, and also charged him with an additional Espionage Act charge.
