

OSC calls her a "repeat offender" who has flouted the law barring federal employees from engaging in political activity in their official duties.

WASHINGTON, D.C. - President Trump said Friday he will not fire Kellyanne Conway as White House counselor for violating the Hatch Act, rebuking the recommendation of a top federal watchdog.

"No, I'm not going to fire her. I think she's a terrific person," Trump said during a call-in interview on "Fox & Friends."

Read the developing report here