8th CD candidate Amanda Stuck questions Gallagher's votes against the USPS Fairness and HEROES Acts.

Appleton - Congressional candidate Amanda Stuck questions Rep. Mike Gallagher's recent votes especially his stance The Heroes Act, which has broad support from veterans and frontline worker groups. Despite the wide support, the bill failed in May and the hard working people of Northeast Wisconsin are still waiting for another coronavirus relief package which is looking more and more unlikely this year.

"His latest campaign ad, like much of his other campaign materials, touts his service record," said Stuck. "While I have nothing but respect for the brave men and women that serve our country I am a little uneasy about my opponent behaving as though his record insulates him from the decisions he's made that have negatively affected his fellow veterans."
