The ruling was a repudiation to Trump, as well as the 18 GOP state attorneys general and 126 House Republicans who had backed the lawsuit.

WASHINGTON, DC - The Supreme Court on Friday rejected a widely panned bid by Texas to overturn President-elect Joe Biden's election win, delivering a devastating blow to President Trump's long-shot legal campaign.

The Texas lawsuit had been backed by Trump, as well as 18 GOP state attorneys general and 126 House Republicans.
