

Gov Walker Supports Raising Taxes On People Making Under $75,000

Written by Democratic Party of Wisconsin, Melanie Conklin
Thursday, 16 November 2017 15:20 -

House tax bill, set for a vote Thursday, will raise taxes, gives breaks to wealthy elite.

MADISON - Gov. Scott Walker published a column endorsing the national Republican tax reform scheme, even as Sen. Ron Johnson says he is a no vote due to how the bill treats pass-through businesses such as the one he owned and continues to benefit from.

Democrats oppose both House and Senate versions of the bills because we know how hard it is for families, retirees, teachers, student-loan borrowers, students and people making less than $75,000 who on average will receive a tax increase.

“Democrats believe in fairness. Giving a handout to the wealthy so that taxes can be raised on people already struggling is not the American way and certainly not what Democrats are going to sit by and watch happen,” stressed Democratic Party of Wisconsin Chair Martha Laning.

Gov Walker Supports Raising Taxes On People Making Under $75,000

Written by Democratic Party of Wisconsin, Melanie Conklin
Thursday, 16 November 2017 15:20 -

