

MILWAUKEE - We discuss Trump-backed millionaire Tim Michels' self-dealing flat tax scheme that would further undermine the revenue needed for education, health care, and a climate transition, and force working and middle class folks to pay more while the super rich get yet another tax giveaway. Ron Johnson continues to deny Jan. 6th was an armed insurrection, as Wisconsin Democrats work to make the November Election a referendum on the right to an abortion. Robert tells us the deep history and structural causes of for-profit utility foot dragging on climate change, and a new Sierra Club Report gives Wisconsin utilities D and F grades on clean energy. We close with an interview of Citizen Action North Central Organizing Coop member Don Dunphy, who has been working for two and a half years for our "deep canvass" program following his retirement as the Lincoln County District Attorney. Don tells us why talking to important voters this year is "the most important job of his life" and why it is important our listeners should donate to expand the canvass and volunteer with Citizen Action talking to voters who will decide the election.
