Challenges MAGA Republicans' extreme plans to gut Social Security and Medicare.

WASHINGTON - In the states this week, local news highlighted the sharp contrast between President Biden's commitment to looking out for working families and seniors and MAGA Republicans' extreme plans to gut Social Security and Medicare.

On Tuesday, President Biden gave the second State of the Union address of his presidency, speaking directly to the American people about the historic progress we have made over the past two years to rebuild the economy and his agenda for the future.

On Thursday, President Biden visited Tampa, Florida, to talk about his plan to protect Social Security and Medicare as Republicans threaten to cut these programs.
