By 45-point margin, Americans support the Biden-endorsed Border Security Bill

As Donald Trump heads to the border today, Americans will be reminded who is at fault for the lack of action on border security: Donald Trump.

Donald Trump agrees. He told voters to “blame it on me” when he directed MAGA Republicans to kill the toughest and fairest bipartisan border security agreement in decades because he thought it would help him politically.

Americans, including the Border Patrol union, who endorsed Trump’s campaign twice, overwhelmingly support this bill that would add thousands of law enforcement officials and new technology to detect fentanyl.

New polling from Navigator Research :

By a 45-point margin – (66 percent support – 21 percent oppose) – Americans supported the legislation when framed as “an immigration law recently proposed in Congress that would have increased funding for border security and make it harder for migrants to claim asylum”

The following is a statement from Biden-Harris 2024 Rapid Response Director Ammar Moussa :

“Donald Trump said so himself: He is responsible for blocking an overwhelmingly popular, bipartisan agreement to secure our border and deliver Border Patrol the resources they need to stop the flow of fentanyl. Trump is playing games for his own political gain, and Border Patrol and working families are paying the price. If Trump gets the chance, he’ll round up millions of people into mass detention camps and rip children away from their families. It’s cruel and un-American.

“Since day one, President Biden has been hard at work to fix the broken immigration system Trump left behind, working across the aisle to deliver solutions for the American people. The American people are looking for leaders who want to deliver solutions and that’s why they’ll reelect President Biden this November.”
