DE PERE – Dan Robinson will host two listening sessions in coming weeks to gather input from members of the community on issues of importance to the 88th Assembly District and Brown County. All residents are invited to share their thoughts on what they would like from the Wisconsin Legislature in the next session or ask questions about the election this fall. Dates and locations for the listening sessions are:

Tuesday, Oct. 7th, 6-7 pm at the Kress Family Branch Library, 333 N. Broadway in De Pere

Monday, Oct. 13th, 5-6 pm at the East Branch Library, 2255 Main St. in Green Bay (A Sign Language interpreter will be present for this session.)

Dan Robinson is the Democratic candidate for the state Assembly in the 88th District. Robinson previously served for six years on the De Pere City Council, and is currently serving his second term on the Brown County Board of Supervisors. As a member of the Council and Board, Robinson has led efforts to reach out to members of the community and to hear their concerns and ideas for local government. Robinson's endorsements from local, county, and state elected officials of the 88th District and his record of working with elected officials of all perspectives demonstrate his capacity for effective, collaborative leadership in Madison.
