MILWAUKEE, WI - To celebrate Sen. Ron Johnson's birthday, Wisconsin activists with People For the American Way, Organizing for Action, and Voces de la Frontera gathered at Sen. Johnson's Milwaukee office to throw him a birthday party – and send the message that while everyone, even Sen. Johnson, deserves a great birthday party, it's time for him to end his partisan obstruction and give fair consideration to President Obama's Supreme Court nominee.

Activists tried to deliver Sen. Johnson and his staff a birthday cake with the message, "Happy Birthday Ron Johnson! Now, #DoYourJob" (pictures are below and attached). Unfortunately, Sen. Johnson and his staff didn't choose to join in the celebration.

PFAW Regional Political Coordinator Scott Foval stated:

"We hoped to celebrate our senator's birthday with him, but it seems like just as he doesn't have time to do his job and give fair consideration to Supreme Court nominee Judge Garland, he doesn't have time to enjoy some delicious cake with his constituents!

"Now that the party's over, it's high time for Sen. Johnson to follow the Constitution and push for hearings and a vote for Judge Garland."
