

Russ for Wisconsin New Ad - “Didn’t Do Enough”

Written by Russ for Wisconsin

Friday, 21 October 2016 11:17 - Last Updated Friday, 21 October 2016 11:41

---

Ad focuses on Sen. Johnson’s failed record at the Tomah VA Medical Center, where he passed the buck on Wisconsin’s veterans while exploiting tragedy for his reelection campaign.

---

MIDDLETON - Russ launched a new digital ad today, “Didn’t Do Enough.” The ad focuses on Sen. Johnson’s failed record at the Tomah VA Medical Center, where he passed the buck on Wisconsin’s veterans while exploiting tragedy for his reelection campaign.

Earlier this week, Candace Delis, daughter of a veteran who died from mistreatment at the Tomah VA, shamed Sen. Johnson for using her father’s death as a “feather in [Johnson’s] political cap,” while failing to make changes at the clinic. To Candace and her family, Johnson simply “didn’t do enough.”

WATCH “Didn’t Do Enough” here. or below.

Uploaded on Oct 21, 2016

Russ for Wisconsin New Ad - “Didn’t Do Enough”

Written by Russ for Wisconsin

Friday, 21 October 2016 11:17 - Last Updated Friday, 21 October 2016 11:41

---

Sen. Johnson failed his watch duty on Wisconsin's VA clinics, and when tragedies became public he neglected to take steps to improve the care for veterans. But instead of taking responsibility for his failure, Sen. Johnson hid behind millions of dollars in false TV ads peddled by the Koch brothers and their dark money groups. This is nothing new for Johnson, who during his years in Washington has been bought and paid for by powerful corporations and billionaires, and has consistently left Wisconsinites and their families high and dry.

Sen. Johnson's actions are what people hate most about Washington politicians: he says one thing, does another, and exploits it for his political ambitions. But Wisconsinites know the truth. Johnson failed our veterans.

WATCH “Didn’t Do Enough” here.