Michigan Governor takes the gavel from our Tony Evers at 2023 GSGP Leadership Summit in Cleveland. Group is celebrating its 40th anniversary this year.

CLEVELAND — Gov. Tony Evers today, at the Great Lakes St. Lawrence Governors and Premiers (GSGP) 2023 Leadership Summit that is taking place now through October 15th in Cleveland, Ohio, announced Michigan Governor Gretchen Whitmer will be the next chair of the GSGP.

“Serving as chair of the Great Lakes St. Lawrence Governors and Premiers these last four years has been an honor, and this experience has been invaluable to helping guide my work as governor to make protecting and preserving Wisconsin and our region’s vast and vital natural resources one of my administration’s very top priorities,” Gov. Evers. “I’m excited to announce Michigan Governor Gretchen Whitmer will be the next chair of the Great Lakes St. Lawrence Governors and Premiers. Governor Whitmer has always been a great partner in our work together as governors and as members of the GSGP, and I am looking forward to her leadership and our continued work together protecting our Great Lakes.”

A wide-angle landscape photograph showing a coastline. In the foreground, a grassy and rocky hillside slopes down towards the water, with some evergreen trees. The middle ground features a sandy beach curving along the shore, with white-capped waves breaking onto it. The water is a deep turquoise color. In the background, a forested headland is visible, and the sky is filled with large, white, puffy clouds. A small, distant island or structure is visible on the horizon.
