Madison – End Domestic Abuse Wisconsin (End Abuse), the state coalition serving survivors of domestic violence (DV), honors October's Domestic Violence Awareness Month (DVAM) by partnering with a national awareness campaign, announcing the upcoming release of their annual Homicide Report, and preparing for their antiviolence conference.

End Abuse is proud to partner with the national #Every1KnowsSome1 campaign. This campaign sheds light on the pervasive issue of DV, empowers people to come together to address this epidemic, and focuses on the theme that everyone knows someone affected by DV - whether they realize it or not.

"We're proud to partner with the Every1KnowsSome1 campaign," said End Abuse Executive Director Monique Minkens. "We're releasing content on four key issues each week of DVAM: DV basics, reproductive justice, firearms & lethality, and housing. By increasing awareness to the public and lawmakers, we work towards meaningful resourcing solutions that address violence at its roots."
