

More than 1.5 million file new jobless claims in first week of June

Written by The Hill Press
Thursday, 11 June 2020 11:42

U.S. added 2.5 million jobs in May report, largely due to 2.7 million workers returning from furloughs.

WASHINGTON, DC - More than 1.5 million Americans filed new claims for unemployment insurance during the first week of June, according to Labor Department data released Thursday.

In the week between May 31-June 6, the total number of seasonally adjusted initial claims for jobless benefits fell to 1,542,000 from a revised total of 1,897,000 in the final week of May.

Read the developing report here