

How Walker's SOS speech uncovers clues about his evolving political strategy, how national Republicans plan to use the repeal of the Affordable Care Act to blacklist Planned Parenthood, Trump's stranger than fiction press conference, and more...

STATEWIDE - We dissect Gov. Walker's "working and winning" State of the State speech and uncover clues about his evolving political strategy.

Moving to the national level, we welcome Planned Parenthood of Wisconsin's Mel Barnes to discuss how Paul Ryan and Congressional Republicans plan to use the repeal of the Affordable Care Act to blacklist Planned Parenthood as a medical provider for Medicaid patients, cutting off access to women's preventive health care across Wisconsin.

We also talk about Trump's stranger than fiction press conference this week, the Senate's first vote on Affordable care Act repeal, and Health Care for All rallies we are hosting this weekend with Senator Tammy Baldwin and Congresswoman Gwen Moore. We also uncover shocking new Wisconsin legislation that would repeal child labor laws for 16 older in order to supposedly help homeless kids.
